

My Holidays signs a new multi-year agreement to use Travelport's technology

21 November 2017

Travelport (NYSE: TVPT), a leading Travel Commerce Platform, has today announced, via its operator in Qatar, a new agreement with My Holidays, the online arm of Regency Travel and Tours, one of the pioneering travel agencies in the State of Qatar.

Under the agreement, My Holidays will utilize Travelport's open platform and Universal API technology to connect to the widest choice of content to quickly respond to customers' needs by providing the integrated, personalized travel experiences that the connected digital traveler of today demands. Travelport's Universal API aggregates content from an array of sources including over 400 airlines and 650,000 unique hotel properties, and enables travel providers such as My Holidays to increase attachment rates and deliver tailor-made travel solutions.

Commenting on the new partnership, Ibrahim Hassan Al-Asmakh, President of Regency Group Holdings said: "Travelport's industry-leading technology will enable us to benefit from intelligent, fast and accurate searching beyond just rate and availability when creating trips for our discerning customers. We seize every opportunity for growth and Travelport's cutting-edge technology will help us target more travelers and reinforce our visibility globally."

Matthew Powell, Managing Director, Middle East and South Asia at Travelport, commented: "We are delighted to have secured this new partnership with My Holidays and Regency Travel and Tours, a well-established travel industry player in the Middle East region. My Holidays' decision to work with us, demonstrates how our investment in revolutionary technology drives agency effectiveness and global expansion."
