

Travelport and Umbrella streamline rail bookings via its DB RailMaster rail reservation booking

28 September 2017

Travelport (NYSE: TVPT), a leading travel commerce platform and Umbrella, one of the leading Swiss travel tech companies have today announced the additional functionality of automated traveller profile data transfer into Travelport’s dedicated rail booking tool for Deutsche Bahn, DB RailMaster.

When booking rail, agents traditionally had to manually transfer the customer’s data, including seating preferences and BahnCard details from Umbrella Faces into Travelport’s DB RailMaster. Further driving agency efficiency, this new enhancement replaces the previously lengthy and inefficient manual process with real-time, fully automated synchronization of traveller data between both systems. Leading to faster and error free rail booking experiences for agents.

Dieter Rumpel, Travelport’s Managing Director Germany & Switzerland, commented: “This project is another way Travelport in close cooperation with Umbrella are developing frictionless paths to better ways of working for agents. The automated transfer of profile data provides a real time save for agencies, saving their valuable time so they can focus on providing an excellent customer’s service to travellers.”

Helmut Pilz, Vice President Business Development at Umbrella: “Our solutions are well established in the industry and are designed to optimise profile management in the corporate travel. We are certain that this upgrade will be appreciated by the users on a daily basis.”

Umbrella Faces, is fully customised web-based travel management system that gives travel agencies and TMCs access to a master database of traveller profiles, allowing them to modify the customers' profiles.
