

Travelport signs a new, multi-year agreement with Otravo Travel in Benelux and Scandinavia

23 February 2017

Travelport (NYSE:TVPT), a leading Travel Commerce Platform, has announced a new agreement with Otravo, which sees the leading online air travel sales in the Benelux and Scandinavia continue to access Travelport’s Travel Commerce Platform and unrivalled travel content. Otravo is the owner of Scandinavian online travel organisation Flygstolen. They welcome over 100,000 visitors to their websites every day and millions of people have already booked their flights through Otravo since 1983.

As part of the agreement, Otravo will continue to receive fast and accurate access to a great variety of real time consumer ready content from over 400 of the world’s leading network airlines and low cost carriers, over 200 of whom also now merchandise and sell their full range of branded fares and ancillaries via Travelport’s Travel Commerce Platform. Over 650,000 hotel properties and 36,000 car rental locations are also available through Travelport’s Travel Commerce Platform.

Raymond Vrijenhoek, CEO at Otravo said, “We are delighted to be strengthening our relationship with Travelport. Through its Travel Commerce Platform and unique merchandizing capabilities, Travelport provides a great opportunity for our business to grow sales, provide better-quality customer service and give us a heightened online presence.”

Simon Ferguson, Managing Director, Northern Europe at Travelport, added: “We are very pleased with this new agreement, and to be supporting the growth of Otravo in the Netherlands and the Nordics, markets where Travelport is showing significant growth. This agreement demonstrates the confidence Otravo has in Travelport's innovative technology. Today's digital travellers demand more choice and flexibility when they book travel and Travelport's solutions will continue to support Otravo to manage these requirements as effectively and efficiently as possible."
